Field Officer's Report.

Attention is again called to the Field Officer's Report submitted by Major E. D. Cunningham and Major A. Lockhart. Will you be good enough to have these officers instructed to the effect that they in their tour of duty must visit all guards and sentries in London Camp, which is meant to include the Wolseley Barracks. The quarters of Wolseley Barracks must also be inspected by them some time during their tour of duty.

Field Officer's Report

Major H Martin, 118th O.S.Bn.

Sir:

In reply to your No. 1D 87-12-9, dated 25.10.16., I beg to state that the officer marginally named and the other Field Officer of this Battalion were not aware that the inspection of Wolseley Barracks was included in their duties as Field Officer of the Day.

These officers have now been instructed that all guards in the Garrison are to be included in their tour of duty and will in the future act accordingly.

Field Officer's Duties.

Field Officer of the day will inspect, in addition to the Guards, Queen's Park, Guards at the Ordnance, Armouries, Wolseley Barracks and the Cove Ranges. It is suggested that the officer making these rounds should go on horse back.

Countersign.

The officer doing grand rounds at night must get the countersign from the A. A. G. Camp.
